LETTER: LIBERALS NOT PUTTING THE SAFETY OF CANADIANS FIRST WITH FIREARMS

LEGISLATION - Despite the fact that more than half of the homicides committed with a firearm in Canada are gang-related, the Liberals are proposing legislation to reduce sentences for gang crime to as little as a fine.

EDITORIAL: WE NEED REAL SOLUTIONS TO GUN CRIMES

Finally, police frequently suggest half of all guns used to commit crimes come from legal, domestic sources.

However, when pressed no one seems to be able – apart from anecdotal suggestion – to validate that figure. We would love to see actual evidence. Postmedia News - Published: August 10, 2018

MY COMMENT: Glad to see The Province finally asking for the facts rather than repeating false RCMP statistics.

CSSA COMMENTARY: MEDIA CONTINUES THE LIE THAT “MOST CRIME GUNS ARE DOMESTICALLY SOURCED” Unfortunately, Kim Bolan, writing for The Province, offered misinformation instead of fact when she ended her column with this statement: “As of 2016, most B.C. criminals were getting their guns in Canada. Some were stolen from individuals or businesses. Others were bought by ‘straw purchasers’ – people not on police radar who are paid to get a gun licence and make legal firearm purchases on behalf of a criminal.” CSSA COMMENTARY - Posted on February 7, 2018

GUN VIOLENCE A 'SIGNIFICANT CONCERN' FOR CANADIANS, BILL BLAIR SAYS

"We are quite prepared to look at how -- in certain parts of the country perhaps -- greater restrictions might be implemented. But in addition to that, you have to recognize that in and of itself is not the sole solution," Blair said. Blair said he believes many of the current rules are working as they should. He also noted he knows many responsible firearm owners who follow all the rules. "At the same time, I think we all share a concern when those firearms get into the hands of violent criminals who are prepared to commit violent acts in our communities and we need to do everything we can do keep those guns out of their hands." CSSA COMMENTARY: IPOLITICS MASTERS THE ART OF MASSAGING STATISTICS TO "PROVE" A DESIRED OUTCOME - Canada's licensed firearm owners are not shooting people in our major cities or anywhere else. Drug dealers and organized criminal gang members, in their ongoing turf wars over the illegal drug trade, are the offenders. Conflating the former with the latter is both misleading and irresponsible.

CALLS FOR STRONGER HANDGUN LAWS IN CANADA HAVE DEEP ROOTS

Considering this arc of history, the calls to outlaw handguns by former Liberal prime minister Paul Martin in 2005, and now by John Tory, once the leader of the Ontario Progressive Conservatives, seem less like knee-jerk proposals. Duane Bratt, a political science professor at Calgary's Mount Royal University says, "The tweet was not aimed at the Saudi government. It was aimed at the Canadian public for political gain. It was not aimed at helping the Badawis."

30 AMAZING YEARS OF FAILED CLIMATE-ALARM PREDICTIONS

'Point of no return,' 'critical tipping point' have long passed. By ART MOORE - August 7, 2018

INDIAN CITIES

Although Canada took a different turn than New Zealand, it is still not too late for the federal government to adopt an official policy of encouraging—and more importantly, incentivizing—Indigenous migration and integration in Canada's urban centres. It is happening voluntarily anyways. The government can clearly assist, in a much more intensive way, motivated First Nation members to relocate to Canada's urban centres.

Justin Trudeau's decision to cancel the Energy East pipeline was a huge mistake and a huge missed opportunity, which left much of Canada reliant on foreign oil. In effect, Justin Trudeau kept Canada poorer and more vulnerable, while making foreign countries like the Saudis richer. By SPENCER FERNANDO - AUGUST 6, 2018

TORONTO SUN - MOSQUE SERMON CALLS ON ALLAH TO SLAY NON-MUSLIMS 'ONE BY ONE'

For some reason Justin Trudeau could not condemn the actions of the Pakistani-Canadian who spread terror in our city. Instead the P.M. called for "a time of compassion" among all of us. Compassion? For whom? For the dead? The dead don't need compassion; they need justice and the truth. So was Trudeau calling for "compassion" towards mass murderer Faisal Hussain? Is it possible he was influenced by the spin doctoring of those promoting the theory the killer's actions were exclusively the result of mental illness? By Tarek Fatah - August 5, 2018

THE SHOCKING TRUE STORY OF HOW GLOBAL WARMING BECAME THE BIGGEST #FAKENEWS SCARE OF ALL TIME (PT 1) By James Delingpole - February 18, 2018

- First of these was a Swedish meteorologist called Bert Bolin who had been obsessed, since the late 50s, with the idea that carbon dioxide, being a greenhouse gas, must inevitably precipitate potentially disastrous global warming.
- Next came Dr John Houghton, an evangelical Christian and former professor of atmospheric physics at Oxford, who became seized with the spirit of Bolin's notion – and proceeded to proselytize on its behalf via his influential position as head of the UK Met Office.
- And the third of this unholy trinity was the hugely rich Canadian businessman and Marxist Maurice Strong who knew little about the environment but who quickly grasped that it was the perfect cause he could exploit to advance his left-wing global agenda.

Without this trio's passion, energy and influence, the entire global warming scare might never have happened.
