Yesterday, morning my Telus e-mail service went down again. As of 8 am today, it is still down! Telus Webmail and Telus Chat Support service were also unavailable. We are given a toll-free number to call that tells us that Telus e-mail is down and they are trying to fix it. A few months back my Telus e-mail was down for three days. Just thankful I'm not a business owner who relies on Telus e-mail service for their survival.

NATIONAL SECURITY AND DEFENCE - Albert Einstein is credited with saying: “The definition of insanity is doing the same thing over and over again but expecting different results”. There’s no proof that Einstein really made this statement just as there is no proof – no ‘evidence’ - that any of the reams of gun control laws passed by successive governments over the last four decades has reduced the number of homicides, reduced the number of suicides, reduced violent crime, improved public or police safety or kept firearms out of the hands of criminals.
